“ I will always remember Marshall--how kind and gentle he was. Marshall was the barber in Jamestown when I was a kid. Marshall would come to our house to cut my brothers' hair. There were four of them--and they had wooly hair--so it would take a while. But Marshall was always patient as he went about his work. And, I have so many other precious memories of Marshall (we called him Mornie). I know that Marshall is reunited with all of the other Jamestown descendants who have gone on before. This consoles me. Prayers for all who knew and loved Marshall.

“ Today, I say good-bye to my big brother. I look up to him because he was not just a good man to all who knew him, he was also an excellent father to his children – he adored them and his grandchildren. I will always remember his kind and gentle soul and how he loved our mother and his wife Shirley. He had a special bond with his sisters and our baby brother. He made us all feel special.

Rest in peace my dear brother – You were a good man and I will love you forever.
