“ I remember the day that we looked at the property we bought and built a home on from Roy and Frances. It began the day of a great friendship between our families. We owe eternal gratitude to them for the many memories we have shared on the ridge. Our daughter, Gabby, will never forget the good times we all had there together. Frances would paint her nails while Roy would blow them dry. She played with all of the little toys and spent a lot of good times with Roy even helping him wash the Jeep. She loved riding on his tractor with him and making cookies to take to him and Frances. Gabby will miss him so much and so will Rob and I.
