“ 10 Things I Know About Ruth

- 1) She had a nice smile and she gave tender kisses.
- 2) She was always concerned about her appearance and dressed nice.
- 3) She was an only child.
- 4) She was the slowest eater I have ever known.
- 5) She liked to ride in the front of a speeding boat.
- 6) She enjoyed going to the movies and eating popcorn (Even when she didn't like the movie).
- 7) She loved flowers and dogs and flowers and dogs loved her.
- 8) She gave birth to six children and she and her husband Bill raised them with opportunity.
- 9) She wasn't perfect. It has been said that "there are no perfect parents or perfect children" Ruth loved her children which leads me to my most valued memory of Ruth which is #10
- 10) The most important thing that I know about Ruth is that she gave birth to and helped raise my soul mate, her daughter Lynn. To me it is a mystery as to how she developed her parenting skills. Did she read about how to raise children from a book? Did she learn them from her parents? And how did she (as an only child) learn to parent a gaggle of children? We may never know how she did it. This I can testify; Ruth and Bill raised my wife in a way that she became a most excellent mother to my children and a perfect wife to me.

God bless Ruth for the children she bore and may He continue to bless us on this earth through the love of her children and the other offspring that she left behind.

Well done Ruth! well done. Rest in peace and know that your life has been a blessing.

I lost a dear friend in Ruth's passing. I will always remember all the dinners, shopping trips, sharing good times and bad, and so many things we shared. I love you my friend and hope to see you again some day. Dru Cox
